Dear Subscribers,

Spring is here, already rushing into summer. Everyone is busy with new foals, training, riding, conditioning and getting ready for shows or competitive rides. Good luck to you all.

Aren't there any Walkers for sale? I've had so many phone calls recently from people who are looking but too often I can't even refer them to a seller because so few have been sending in ads! And speaking of ads, now that ours automatically run for two issues, would you drop us a line, phone or fax and tell us about sales you've made? (That way we get more news AND can cancel the ad and save someone a fruitless call.)

A 4-H MEMBER'S PROFILE

by Mandy Reynolds

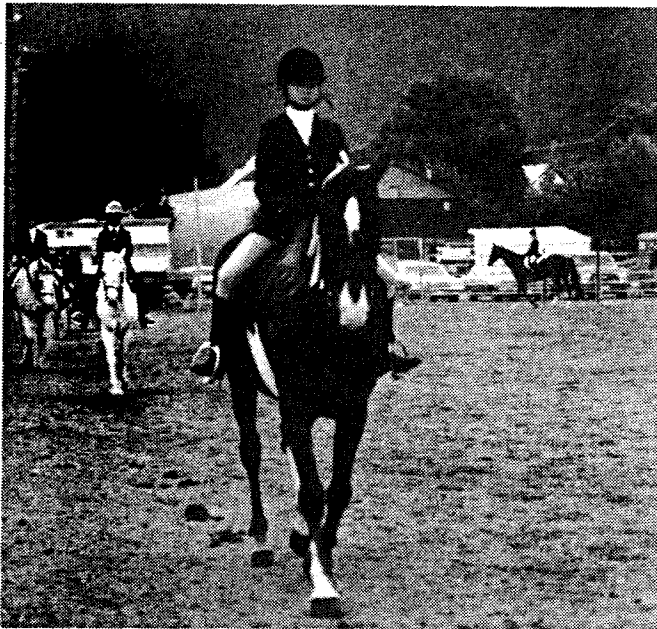

Hi! My name is Mandy Reynolds. I am twelve years old and I am an active junior member with the Kelowna Hoofbeats 4-H Club. This is my second year in 4-H.

During my first year, I used Chapie's Dapper Dawn (Dixie) as my project horse. She is a six year old registered Tennessee Walking Horse, sorrel in colour and 14:3 hands high.

I have to admit that I did not think we would be treated fairly at the shows and clinics. I was wrong. Dixie and I did wonderfully. The club leader, Val Vicars, along with my fellow 4-H members, were kind and helpful. They were very curious about Dixie's unique running walk. Before the year was complete, Dixie had become very skilled at taking curious onlookers for demonstration rides.

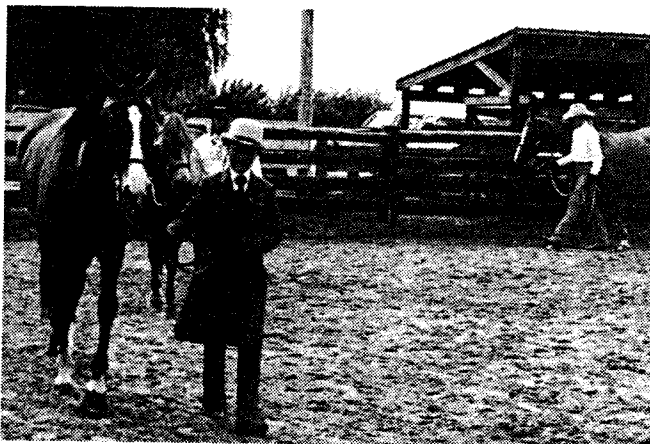

Mandy & "Dixie" at Okanagan Stock Show, 1991

We went to the Okanagan Stock Show. I met many new people and learned very much. We received fifth place ribbons in both the Showmanship Class and Pleasure Class. By the end of the day, I was very tired, but happy and very proud of Dixie. At the year end banquet I was surprised to be nominated as our club's most improved Junior Rider of the Year. The banquet was fun, but having the chance to take my own Tennessee Walking Horse into the 4-H Club was the most fun of all.

In August of 1991 my parents, Art and Sandy Reynolds, purchased a three year old mare from Ken and Ruth Hudson in Lethbridge. Her name was Miss Big Stuff (Missy). She is the most beautiful horse I have ever seen. I had ridden her full brother, Spokane O Joe. He had a wonderfully fast running walk with a very slow canter. He was a joy to ride.

I decided to use Missy as my 1992 4-H project. I started riding her around the middle of January. She was a green broke mare when I first started her under saddle. I worked her in the riding ring for about two months at thirty minutes a day, getting a weekly lesson from a trainer/instructor.

At the end of March we entered our first show; a schooling show held at a local riding stable. We were entered in three classes: Maiden Equitation, Maiden Pleasure and Open Pleasure. There were thirteen entries in our Maiden Equitation Class. Missy picked up her lead and was responding beautifully. As we were cantering, someone drove a tractor outside the arena and Missy could not see what was making all the noise. She sidestepped away from the wall, consequently eliminating our chances in that class. In our next class we took a third place ribbon. This was our very first ribbon so needless to say, it was the most beautiful thing on earth. Our final class was Open Pleasure. We were up against experienced show horses so we didn't place. Regardless, it was a good day - one ribbon for our first time out.

Mandy & Miss Big Stuff (with fellow 4H member), at Interior Provincial Exhibition 4H Day, 1992

The next show was the Okanagan 4-H Stock Show. This show was made up of several different clubs from the Central Okanagan area. There were over 150 horses at this show. We were divided into several groups. Throughout the week I had riding lessons every day, which I feel helped a lot. The Friday of that week was our inter-club competition. I woke with the jitters. I was busy running back and forth from Missy's stall and the camper. When I was ready for my Showmanship Class I could hardly think straight.

But it was a GREAT day. I received first places in Showmanship Class, Equitation Class and in Pleasure Class. At the wind-up banquet that evening, I received a first place Intermediate trophy and rosette for Overall Equitation Class. That show was a big success!

The next show was the Prince George Exhibition where I competed in the Walking Horse Classes. I received first place in English Pleasure, second place in Western Pleasure and third place in the Water Glass Class. I was invited to compete in the 4-H division where I received third place in Showmanship and first place in the Riding Class.

The next show was the British Columbia Walking Horse Show, held in Quesnel. I came away from that show with two firsts, six seconds, four thirds, two fourths, one fifth and one sixth, for a total of sixteen ribbons. The first place in my Junior Western Pleasure was extra special as I had to work exceptionally hard for this ribbon. I was so happy I cried.

Our next stop was the Interior Provincial Exhibition held in Armstrong, B.C. My Showmanship Class was a disaster. I took sixth place. However, in Equitation Class I received first and Grand Champion and in Pleasure Class I took second and Reserve Grand Champion. I was ecstatic.

The last show of the season was the West Coast Walker Show where I received five firsts, three seconds, one third and one fifth. When I got back home I was glad the show season was over for the year as it was exhausting. I did have a lot of fun though.

At our Year End Banquet I received a plaque for Junior Trail and Equitation. The real surprise came when I was awarded the Junior Aggregate Trophy. It was so big that when I held it at waist level I wasn't able to see over it! This is a perpetual trophy but I have a keeper trophy to remind me of my achievement.

I would like to encourage all young people to join in the fun and the great learning experiences that one can get from the 4-H Program.

In closing, there are many people that I have to thank. These people made it possible for Missy and me to achieve what we did. To VAL VICARS and ELAINE STOLTZ and the rest of our dedicated 4-H Leaders, a very special thank-you. I would like to thank my loving parents, SANDY and ART REYNOLDS. There is one more thank you that I wish to extend. There is one word in the English dictionary which expresses my appreciation for my ever-so-thoughtful trainer, DIANE LARSON, and that is "reverence". ¶

PEACE AREA NEWS

by Jo-Anne McDonald

News time again. We here at McDonald Farms have sold some horses to new owners. Golden Sorghum Merry and Sundust Success have new owners in Liz and Norman Levangie of Mirror, Alberta. Go Boy's Hudson Bay is now in Trail, B.C. with Betty Ann and Gary Janni and Sage King's Last Chance is now owned by Carole and Marvin Ryan of Tumbler Ridge, B.C. Noble Gordon is now owner of Monterey Captain. We wish all these new owners the best of luck with their steeds.

We now own Dictator's Perfection, a black yearling stud that we got from BettyAnn and Gary Janni. He is going to be one tall dude! He was sired by Royal Dictator out of Royal Bay Quest.

We made a fast trip to Stettler, Alberta to attend a family anniversary on the weekend of May 14. We delivered Levangie's horses and met with Jannis to exchange horses.

We had the pleasure of seeing Jack and Madeleine Chapman and used their facilities. We'd certainly like to thank them for their kind hospitality.

Jack and Madeleine have a good looking young stallion that I'm sure will make his mark with good foals in the future.

We also had the chance to meet Ron Bannister who is a neighbour of Levangies. Ron owns the big black stallion, Royal Dictator. He is quite a horse! Best of luck to all these people with their horse activities.

It has certainly been a "male" year as far as horses go. Here is the foal call for this area. A special note regarding Doug and Sherrie Jones' mare; Monterey Lacey-lyn had twin foals, and both are doing well and growing like weeds.

and have owned part Arabs for 25 years. My husband owns a very large Quarter Horse."

"Now my husband has been laid up with an extremely bad back all winter and we are afraid his riding days are numbered. So we are in the market for a very smooth pleasure horse, which brings me to why I'm interested in knowing more about the Tennessee Walker. We don't show horses but we do ride for pleasure and really enjoy trail riding "out back". We'd be looking for a horse around 16 hands at least."

"If you can help us learn more about your breed, we would be appreciative."
[Readers, If you have helpful info, Louise' address is Box 805, Burns Lake, B.C. VOJ 1E0]

From DEBRA JACK, ARMSTRONG, "We had a wonderful trip to Essen, Germany, for Equitana. While there, we met some keen Walking Horse enthusiasts. The European Tennessee Walking Horse Association, run with the support of the TWHBEA, is a vibrant association."

"We had the opportunity to pass out some of your magazines and covers. In addition we had a request for a subscription from Suyin Oldenburg of Nieuwegein, Holland. Suyin and her husband, Gerrit, publish the European Association's magazine and own a number of Walking Horses. They are working very hard to promote the development of the Walking Horse as a pleasure breed in Europe. Suyin advises me that she has read a number of Eldon Eadie's articles and, as a veterinarian, finds them very interesting."

"Well, it's back to work on the farm now that all the excitement is over. Sunday is home safe and sound, albeit very tired. And of course, it is foaling time, so we are preparing for this year's crop of babies."

"We will get you an article on Equitana as soon as we can."

JOYCE PATTERSON, CAWSTON, writes, "Early spring has come and gone. I didn't have any new foals this year but I did get three baby goats from my old goat and one of the twins from the roan goat survived. I'm hand raising ... >

... the little doe. Sold her mum."

"There's been a lot of cold rainy snowy weather right up until three days ago (May 9). Now it's really beautiful and hot. The pastures are looking very good. Most of the early blooms have gone but there are still white and pink blooms on the apple trees. I must get a snap of Joey under those lovely white blossoms. He's jet black."

"I got Joey from Shelly at Kimberley and I sure do love him. He's doing so well this spring. Stan and Mary Strong of Republic, Washington, made me a beautiful red cart with a black leather seat. It has a nice compartment for the pony's snack and for me too!"

"Erika Peters has been doing well at her endurance rides and shows. Ronna has been doing well with her two Walkers too. I don't see her very often as her two horses walk too fast for Joey. But he's perfect by himself. A wonderful "Grandma's pony".

"Russ and Rose Davies delivered Pride on Friday. She's a Walking Pony of America that I sold them ten years ago. I can't believe it's been that long. The little white mare looked really lovely after all these years. I enjoyed a nice six mile ride on her this morning. I'm sure she remembers a bit. She and Joey get along very well. So I have my two gaited ponies at last."

ONTARIO NEWS

CLARE COLE, THUNDER BAY, writes, "Hi, enclosed is my renewal subscription and would you send a sample copy of WHN to Sherry Visser of Thunder Bay. Sherry purchased her first TWH last fall. She and R.T.C. Dusty Royal have put on many, many miles and are doing great together. I wish her well with her new horse."

"Recently I attended a Walking Horse clinic and auction in Hastings, Minnesota. It was held at Terry Avent's farm. His farm and facility were spectacular. The clinics were for the lite shod, plantation and performance Walkers. They ranged from caring for your horse to trail riding, performance riding, driving, proper clothing for the ring and training. The auction went well and many horses were sold."

"There were many people present from all surrounding states and from Canada. I'm sure from reviews that I've heard that everyone present was pleased with the clinics. They were very informative for the beginner right through to the experienced showman. I am looking forward to next year's auction and clinic."

The L & R Classic competitive trail ride held at Tees is the first ride of the season in Alberta. The course is hilly (you're either going up or down all the time!) with patches of thick bush to negotiate, but the footing was good and the horses just loved it. This year there were 71 horses competing in Open, Intermediate and Novice divisions; 69 horses completed.

Among these were 11 Tennessee Walkers, 3 were in Intermediate level and 8 on the Novice ride. Eight of the TWH placed in the ribbons which are awarded to 6th place in each class of the above divisions e.g. Heavyweight, Lightweight or Junior Rider.

CALL MARGARET GOSLING (403) 625-4341

ALBERTA NEWS

From W.J. & S. ROY, SMITH, "We are having a wonderful spring so far. All our horses are in great shape and the safe arrival of two new babies is always a relief. Our mare, Boothills Miss Kitty gave us a filly, sorrel with star and one white pastern. Monterey Crystal gave us a flashy big stud colt with four high socks and a white blaze (brown eyes). He will probably be red roan like his mother. Both foals are by our stallion, Sundown's Woodstock."

"Woodstock, for the first spring in a long time, is in show shape if not quite endurance shape. We still have the two geldings, which we probably should sell. Bill has been gentling and breaking them, and had ridden both a bit."

"I hope all the other Walker people are having a good spring as well."

RACHEL ROSE of GRANDE CACHE phoned, looking for information about Tennessee Walkers. They recently bought a broke gelding from Neale Hubbard.

SUE NEAGLE, CALGARY, sent a gift subscription and writes, "JIM POWERS of CALGARY is the proud new owner of Katie's Copper Moon. I was sad I was going to miss my buddy, Copper, but realized that Jim is a new horse friend and will enjoy Copper as much as I have. Congratulations on the purchase of your first horse, Jim, and a very good choice too - a Walking Horse. Keep on smiling."

I had a phone call from TOM MARTIN of GRIMSHAW, who is looking for someone to break and train two nice geldings he's raised. Tom says he's expecting about a dozen new Walker foals this spring. He currently runs two stallions, Prairie Sundowner and Cinda's Prince.

DAWN SIGURDSON, LACOMBE, writes, "I am thrilled to bring Lane Curry's pinto mare, Pete's Lady, to Canada. She is a full sister to his tobiano stallion, Pete's Perfection. Lane has ridden her and carried the flag in parades and driven her as a pair with his stallion."

"Three days here in Canada and Lady and I went to the schooling show. What a way to get to know each other."

"Now she's getting in shape for competitive trail. The first ride is at Tees. It sounds like a lot of Walkers will be going. We are taking four. Dixie Verstraete is riding Dust (by Moore Black Dust), David will be on Midnite Tin Drum (by Midnite Sun Shadow), Chelsah (8 years old) will ride Friday's Joint Venture (by Good Friday K.) and I'll be on Pete's Lady."

"I also wish to welcome Bob Johnson to our neck of the woods. He has 22 years of shoeing TWHs under his belt and is a very likeable guy. I feel his expertise is needed and will be appreciated as it fills a gap in the shoeing industry here."

KATHY LEVOIR of VALLEYVIEW phoned, having obtained my name from TWHBEA in Lewisburg, Tenn. She was looking for a Tennessee Walker pleasure horse. Good luck in your search, Kathy.

At UPHILL FARM, EDSON, we have one new foal, a filly by Rebel out of Uphill Arnica (aka Sawdust). At the moment she is a classic buckskin without a white mark, but I fear I see dark roots to her coat... Now if she'd only stay buckskin, her name would have to be Sawbuck!

ANDREA THORNBUR, CALGARY, is the proud new owner of Cavalier's Superior Sun by TWHBEA Versatility Champion Friday's Timebomb K. out of the champion mare, Sunrise Go Girl C.F. This handsome colt was donated by John & Karen Lasley of Cavalier Farm, Davenport, Iowa, to honour Andrea's achievement of the Youth ...>

Superior Versatility Championship. The very best of luck with your new colt, Andrea.

BETTY BURKE of NESTOW phoned. They own a gelding that is now in training with a lady near Athabasca. Their gelding is by Crescent Gold Dust out of a Sun's Black Pride daughter. The Burkes have just recently bought a two year old unregistered Walker filly since they've been so pleased with their gelding.

Betty also mentioned that Crescent Gold Dust has been sold to B.C.

I talked to ANITA GAUTHIER of PLAMONDON who is looking for information on training Walkers. They bought a three year old that they hope to train themselves from the Youngs at Lac La Biche. They also bought the older, well broke mare, My Misty Blue, from Youngs, and are very happy with their new Walkers.

LYLA GOIN of MILLET phoned in to congratulate new owners of two of their horses; William Reynolds, Kelowna, BC. purchased the 20 year old palomino mare Little Breese (Big Sky Trouble Boy x Fairy Breese), and Kelly Teague, Duffield, AB. has purchased the 3 year old chestnut filly Scandalous Stepper (Kentucky Rainbow x Tom's Little Bird). Congratulations all!

The advertisement for Rocky Slopes Farm on the back cover of Walking Horse News this year has been causing some confusion over who's who in the photos. JEAN REMPEL called us to explain that both the photos (under Northfork Sky Walker's head picture) are of the 1991 filly - TOP O'THE MORNIN'. They were both taken at the '92 Canadian Futurity. A photograph of their new junior stallion CR Sweetwater Sundance will be published just as soon as they have one. ¶

C.R.T.W.H NATIONAL REVIEW

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

Good attendance at the AGM held in Stettler, AB on April 24th meant that the members were able to discuss and ratify all of the By-Law Amendments suggested by the board of directors. The new constitution will be effective immediately providing we get approval from Agriculture Canada. All members will receive a copy of the new Constitution & By-Laws just as soon as it is printed. This new constitution is a tremendous step forward for the Canadian Registry now 10 years old, and it reflects the needs of our rapidly growing breed.

ELECTIONS

At the Directors' meeting following the AGM the officers were elected for 1993;

PRESIDENT: Eldon Eadie, Calgary, AB.

VICE-PRESIDENTS:

T.W.H.B.E.A MEMOS

by Marjorie C. Lacy

I phoned Bob Cherry to clarify some points on the new blood typing rules and he confirmed the following:

1) All mares must be blood typed before their foals of 1993 can be registered with TWHBEA. Many people are waiting to bloodtype the mare until the foal is old enough to bloodtype as well, but there are already cases of people having foals on the ground and then losing the mare. Mr. Cherry said that the Association is NOT going to waive the rule and register such foals under a hardship clause. That seems pretty tough to me and I said so, but he said the committee was quite firm on the matter.

2) 1993 foals DO NOT HAVE TO BE BLOODTYPED and can be registered provided their sire and dam are both blood typed. There is a little catch here however. If a horse that you breed, raise and sell is then switched with another or has a different set of papers attached to it sometime after you've sold it, YOU may be held liable.

You may voluntarily blood type your foals, and if you do, they will automatically be parentage verified. Upon verification that they can indeed be offspring of the mare and stallion indicated, they will be issued the special blue (blooded?) papers.

3) There is no charge for parentage verification or the special "blue" registration papers. There is also no charge if you wish to send in papers on the horses you have already had blood typed. The Association will mark them "Blood typed" and put a special seal on them, then return them to you.

Canadians who wish to have the blood typing done in Canada to save the hassle of shipping blood across the border may contact the Mann Equitest Laboratory, 335 Laird Road, Unit Four, GUELPH, ON N1H 6J3 Phone (519)836-2400. The cost per kit in 1990 was $41.20 plus handling charges. ¶

ALBERTA BACK COUNTRY HORSEMEN ASSOCIATION

This is a newly formed group in Alberta. There has been a Back Country Horsemen of B.C. for some time. The organization got its start in the U.S. They have available a number of good brochures and information pamphlets on back country horse use. The following is from one of them.

Membership is open to all horsemen or horse enthusiasts who love our great outdoors and who want to ensure that recreational horse use on public lands will remain as part of the Canadian heritage, forever...

Alberta Back Country Horsemen Association is dedicated to:

* Protection of our priceless back country environment.

* Working with government agencies to expand and improve trail riding and other back country recreational activities.

* Development of trail riding opportunities in urban areas.

* The preservation of the rights of Canadian people to use horses and mules for recreation on public lands.

ALBERTA WALKING HORSE ASSOCIATION

Report by Lorraine Adams

The clinic that we had with Rick Hemmett (Basic Riding/Reining/Trail & a Mini Training show at Wet Creek Stables, Balzac, AB.) went very well with five TWH and six "others". Everyone enjoyed the two days and feel that they would like to take another one in the fall.

The AWhA Fun Show went well. Top prizes went to Monty Gwynne (Hi Point Junior TWH), Maldi Smelter (Hi Point Adult), Brandy Bedard (Hi Point Youth), Joan Gerlitz (Hi Point Junior QH), April Collington (Hi Point Novice Rider) and to Christine Kobza for travelling the furthest.

The second annual Alberta Celebration is on July 31- August 1, in the Agriplex, Claresholm, AB. There will be a clinic afterwards with judge Diane Gueck, of Oregon on August 2nd. For more information call 254-1525.

Report by Lyla Goin

On April 24/25 we hosted an information/fun weekend at Linc Drynan's arena in Millet, AB. The trainer was Russ Keyser of Caithness Croft Inc., Armstrong, B.C.

Russ worked with 15 horses and 10 observers to teach owners how to improve their horses' gaits. Four of these horses had never been under saddle and Russ showed us how to work with a horse right from the beginning, and to establish a trusting relationship. He used a round pen to work in. We were all very impressed and excited about the results he achieved in a very short time.

We were joined by Tom Kingurski, farrier, who did the shoeing and trimming and also gave a talk on foot care. We enjoyed barbeques for lunch and a pot-luck social evening when we had a chance to see some of Russ' videos from the Celebration.

"This is how you do it!" Russ rides Val Klatt's horse, Savannah Sambuca.

We were unable to set our clinic date far enough in advance to publish the date due to Russ' early spring commitments - which included taking Tsuniah's Sunday to Equitana in Germany. We are planning, however, to hold a follow-up clinic. We don't have a date set yet, but if you are interested please give me a call (387-4192) and I will make sure you are notified.

Our next club activity is a trail ride in the Blackfoot Grazing Reserve, June 13th, 10am. We are also planning on joining some parades. If you live near our geographical area (Edmonton-Leduc) and are interested in Walking Horses let us know and we'll include you on the mailing list.

The Klondyke Klassic Show has TWH classes this year. They are on Thursday July 29 & Friday July 30. ¶

CENTRAL ALBERTA TENNESSEE WALKERS

"SECOND CHANCE" SCHOOLING SHOW

by Dawn Sigurdson

Here is a big bouquet to Dianne Little and Robin Whenham. They put 100% effort into the April 24th schooling show.

What a wonderful opportunity this was for horses and riders to team up under Dianne and Robin's professional guidance. Whether you were the littlest rider, more confident teenager or experienced shower, you received personal instruction and attention on how to improve both your riding skills and the gaits of your horse.

Here, especially for me, new ideas on relaxation also surfaced. Dianne said to relax you "think fat!" Well, I am always trying to follow the cosmopolitan version, that is to "think thin". So to "think fat" was both foreign and novel. The "think fat" idea helps riders to tune into the finer station of the horse's sensitive nerve endings. Mastering a "think fat" idea may take work but the results show in deeper nods and longer strides.

Another gem Dianne shared with us is the phenomena I'll call arena breath. Arena breath is something like morning breath. With morning breath you don't dare breathe on someone and with arena breath you just don't breathe at all. The current record for holding one's breath while riding around the arena is three laps. If anyone has broken my record, please contact Guinness (Book of World Records).

"Breathe", Dianne would call out reminding us that lungs going in and out had priority over body position, balance, gait and defensive riding. We watched several times as a nervous horse stopped jumping around in line-up, as the rider breathed.

Robin too, was always available and willing to share her expertise with us. Very important was the way she radiated a kind of energy that could shoot clear across the arena. You got the feeling that she was not looking to judge something wrong but was appreciating something that was going right.

Through her cheerful and friendly attitude she taught us that showing is not painful. Smiling helps to relax the rider and the rider then appears to be enjoying the horse. Smiling at the judge shares with her a positive showing experience. Judges are good people who mostly judge horses from the best down and not from the worst up.

So, after the weekend we rode off into the proverbial sunset with a new perspective. Simply put, to improve our riding, get more from our horses and enjoy being judged - think fat, breathe, and smile.

Many thanks to the C.A.T.W. committee (Norm & Liz Levangie, Ron Bannister) for organising this innovative weekend just in time for the up-coming show season.

See you in the ring!

THE SAGA OF BABY CLYDE

by Orlla Paradine

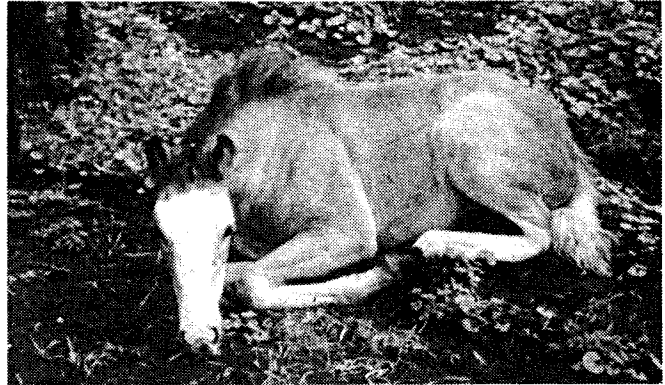

I had been meaning to write all summer but somehow "summer", (such as it was) disappeared real quick - one horse event to another. Our girls, 16 year old twins, Tracy & Cindy, and 13 year old Jodi, started showing July 4 and stopped Sept. 19, which was 4-H Achievement Day. No, they were not showing Walkers but they will be next summer. Guaranteed! All three did very well with their Arabians. Cindy and Tracy were chosen to represent the Northwest Region at the 4-H Provincial Show in Brandon after qualifying at the Northwest Regionals in Dauphin. Jodi just missed being on the junior team by one point. We were very proud. They did very well at all the fairs and even brought home some ribbons from Brandon.

But the most important event of the season was, of course, the birth of Wisky's foal. You may remember that I requested a black filly. Instead, Wisky delivered into my hands the funniest looking foal I have ever seen! YES, I got my filly, but NO, she was about as opposite to black as she could be. Would you believe strawberry roan? She has a bald white face, two back stockings that extend above the hocks at the front, white splashes under her chin and neck, a white splash on one side and a white tummy to go with the rest.

Regardless of colour, her birth turned out to be a very special family affair. On April 2 at 4:30 a.m. the five of us were in Wisky's shed with flashlights to "help" and witness the miracle of birth. Our daughters had never seen a mare foal before which made this a very special time. The three girls were sitting on a bale in the corner of the shed and at one point in her labour Wisky got up, turned around and lay down with her head at their feet for comfort and help - which she promptly received.

F88's Tennessee Brandy had arrived. When she was three days old the 4-H club of around 20 children and parents came to see my baby. You can imagine the comments I received on her colour! Several people felt that she looked just like a baby Clydesdale. Therefore, "Baby Clyde" - and it's stuck! The worst of it was - that IS what she looks like.

Despite the fact that she was lacking (or over endowed) in colour, the rest has been perfect. She has far more character and personality than any other foal we have ever raised. Despite the fact that she is "spoiled", she still knows her limits in terms of proper horse behaviour and is well mannered. She talks to us continually when we are outside or answers to a call from the window. Have we achieved the much talked about "foal imprinting"?

However, after several days it was obvious to my girls and me that this baby was very attached to my husband. Strange! Though he had given in years ago to joining us in our obsession, we were surprised at what was happening. Every time he came outside, and was seen or heard by Brandy, she would "talk" to him. She would quit nursing and leave her mother to run directly to my husband, shoving her nose in his hand and ignoring the rest of us. Soon Brandy was being introduced as his foal.

After a couple of weeks it was certain whose foal she was. She would even run up to his truck or the tractor he was in to "talk" to him. He would wave to her and she would nicker and then wait at the steps for him to climb down (even if it was running) and scratch and rub her. Needless to say, he had given himself away. The man who scolded his wife and daughters about the silly and personal way we referred to our horses was suddenly acting just as "horsey". We now knew what went on all day while we were at school and work. Someone was spending an awful lot of time with Baby Clyde. We were on to him. Baby Clyde now includes the rest of us in her family but his voice is still the first one she answers to.

Spring started with ten horses. The girls sold their three 2 year old Quarter Horses, well started, and Cindy also sold her good Arabian mare for she was getting too small for her. The rule at our house is that no one needs more than one horse. The girls didn't want to part with their older horses so the young stuff left - all to good homes. We picked up a black gelding off the track for Cindy's new barrel horse but while his temperament, manners and training progressed very well, we decided he just wasn't what she wanted so he also went to a good home. We then purchased a 2 year old Arabian gelding for Cindy that is a brother to Jodi's mare.

That left us with the girls' three horses, Wisky for me, Bill's saddle horse and Brandy. By this fall he felt Brandy should have a buddy for the winter so a racing bred QH colt was purchased. It seems there are two sides to this rule about one horse each. One person in the family seems to have three! ! At least he shares so we'll forgive him. He doesn't know it yet but I will have my black Walker someday - even if I have to buy it for him!

I will be having back surgery again in January but now I know after owning Wisky for a year that I will be back in the saddle A.S.A.P. I also hope to take both Wisky and "Baby Clyde" to the All Breed Show in Brandon next summer.

Postscript: April 6 and I couldn't wait any longer. Nine weeks to the day after my back surgery, I took Wisky for a ride of about a mile. Mentally it felt wonderful. Physically I can't go too far yet but I'll go at it nice and slow and hope things continue to improve. There is a poker derby on April 25 that I'll have to miss. Last year they had over 100 riders. I couldn't go then either because Wisky had just foaled and she is now the only horse I can ride. Next year, I guess!

"Baby Clyde's" sire is Sunday's Topper (Chapie's Topper x Sunday Breeze). Her dam, Wisky, was bred by Lexie Cole, at Cabri, Sask. John and Irene Thomas of Road King Walkers, Hamiota, had already bred Wisky when I purchased her from their daughter, Diane Urfer. They owned Sunday's Topper. ¶

The Original Walking Horse

We've been hearing quite a bit lately about old blood and going back to what the Tennessee Walking Horse was. There are two problems with this as it is being done now. First is that the supporters of all this are only going back to 1945 - 1950. A few are going back as far as 1940. The Walking Horse dates back to before the Civil War. Secondly the fans of "old" don't seem to have a clear understanding of what the old Walker really was. They are actually endorsing a middle, or transition style Walker, not the oldest or original Walking Horse. As a result the alleged "old" is just a style variation on what we now have as modern Walkers.

The Original Walking Horse, as opposed to merely old Walking Horse, is so drastically different from what we now call the Tennessee Walking Horse that they constitute an entirely different breed of horse. Furthermore, as unbelievable as it seems, there are still a few Original Walkers around. Walking Horses that have been selectively bred to the original standards for 70 years.

I stumbled on to this fact along about 1986 when I came to the shocking conclusion that my beloved Walking Horse, Sassy, wasn't the kind of horse described by TWBEA brochures and found in the breed journals. Sure, she has Tennessee Walking Horse blood lines and registration papers, which are correct. But she is not the same kind of critter at all. She's low headed, not high headed; low stepping, not high stepping; and she running walks 6 mph. not 10 mph. The real clincher was that all the training advice for Tennessee Walking Horses got results that were the exact opposite of what they were supposed to! Obviously something was amiss here.

The next question was, "What is Sassy if she's not a Tennessee Walking Horse?" I started researching to find out. The conclusion suggested by the research was even more startling. Sassy is indeed a Walking Horse ... a match for the ideal Walker of 1920! Sassy was simply in the wrong decade, by about 60 years! I promptly expanded my research. Just how typical of original Walkers is Sassy, and are there others like her somewhere? After looking carefully through the discarded standards, overlooked advice and obscure anecdotes, I finally met the Walking Horse as Albert Dement and Jim Brantley envisioned it. This is the Walking Horse that the Tennessee Walking Horse Breeders' Association was founded to promote and keep track of. The Walking Horse that TWHBA and its successor, TWHBEA, lost in the middle 1940's.

To find the very first Walking Horse we have to go back to Lexington, Kentucky in 1836. There a man by name of Higgins Chinn bred an unidentified daughter of Isaac Johnson's Copperbottom to the stallion known as Canadian Tom Hal. This blue roan stallion was registered with the American Saddle Register as number 3237. Canadian Tom Hal was a Canadian Pacer.

Isaac Johnson's Copperbottom can be assumed to be a descendent of Copperbottom, a horse also believed to be a Canadian Pacer. The dam of this unknown Copperbottom mare was an equally unknown daughter of the Thoroughbred stallion, Tarquin. ... >

Mr. Chinn's mare produced a sorrel sabino colt with a bald face and four stockings. The colt was named Bald Stockings and grew up to establish a reputation as one of the best and fastest saddle horses of his day. The thing that really made Bald Stockings stand out was his running walk gait. He was the first horse to display a distinctly recognized running walk. Bald Stocking sired some running walk gaited horses but for 30 years the gait was virtually unheard of.

The Civil War changed that. During the war a great upheaval and shuffling of horses occurred. Northern animals were brought south, Southern animals were raided, traded, stolen and moved north. Many horses were killed and many more turned loose to fend for themselves and breed as they pleased. Out of the chaos emerged three more stallions known for siring running walk gaited horses.

The first of these horses was the stallion we now know as Gibson's Tom Hal F-20. This bay roan stallion has two different pedigrees assigned to him depending on whether you believe the American Trotting Register or TWHBEA records.

The Trotting Register assigned Gibson's Tom Hal number 16934 and listed him as being sired by the pacing stallion, Bay Tom, out of Julia Johnson. Bay Tom is listed as a son of Bald Stockings. Julia Johnson was by Adam's Stump out of Julia. Adam's Stump was by Stump the Dealer, a son of the imported Thoroughbred stallion, Timberlon. Julia was by Whip. It is not clear whether the ATR lists the breeder of Gibson's Tom Hal or whether that came from original research done by W.J. McGill but the breeder was H. Clay Sanders of Petersburg, TN. Gibson's Tom Hal acquired his permanent name from Thomas Gibson of Spring Hill, TN, who owned him for a time; but he died the property of F.G. Buford of Buford, TN.

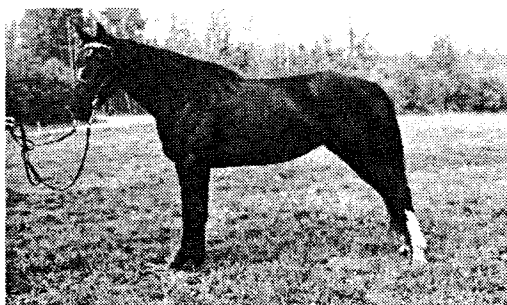

The TWHBEA foundation list considers Gibson's Tom Hal F-20 a son of Kittrel's Tom Hal by Canadian Tom Hal. TWHBEA agrees that Julia Johnson was the dam of Gibson's Tom Hal but credits a Mr. Biggers of Petersburg, TN, as the breeder. There is some question as to whether Kittrel's Tom Hal actually existed, though a pedigree was eventually established for him. There is also no clear identification of which Mr. Biggers was meant, if indeed a Mr. Biggers had anything to do with the horse at all.

Whether Gibson's Tom Hal was a grandson of Bald Stockings or only a grand nephew, he established a family of running walk gaited horses along with his more famous pacing race horses. Gibson's Tom Hal was foaled in 1862 and died in 1890.

It was only a year later, 1893, that Confederate Captain Nathaniel Boone of Boonesville, TN, acquired an unidentified mare. Union troops passing through Boonesville dropped the mare at Capt. Boone's place, took another horse and went on. Twenty five days later the mare produced a grey colt that became known as Boone's Grey John. Grey John proved to be a Walking Horse and a sire of Walking Horses. He was famous for his 7-8 mph running walk and quickly established a family of running walk gaited horses. TWHBA records have assigned a pedigree to Grey John where he appears as ancestor of some of the foundation horses. However, considering his origin, such a pedigree must be considered false. We can be quite sure that the Union troops did not leave a pedigree and stallion report when dumping the mare on an enemy Captain!

A few years later yet another running walk gaited stallion was foaled, Earnheart's Brook's F-25. He too was a product of the Civil War. His breeder, Mike Earnheart, was a farrier who shod horses for both Union and Confederate troops. An unidentified Union officer left a stallion known as Old Driver with Earnheart. Earnheart bred Old Driver to an unidentified mare to get the stallion, Young Driver. Young Driver was then bred to an unspecified daughter of Brown Pilot, a son of the vicious black, Canadian Pacing Pilot. The colt by Young Driver was named Earnheart's Brooks. He too was running walk gaited and sired running walk gaited horses.

Again we have some confusion as to pedigree. Earnheart's Brooks was designated F-25 by TWHBA and assigned a pedigree which lists him as being by Hardison's Brooks F-24 out of an unknown pacing mare. Brooks F-24 is then considered a son of Brown Pilot. In other words, the stallion Brooks is assigned the pedigree that other sources attribute to the mother of Earnheart's Brooks while Young Driver and Old Driver drop out of the TWHBA listing completely.

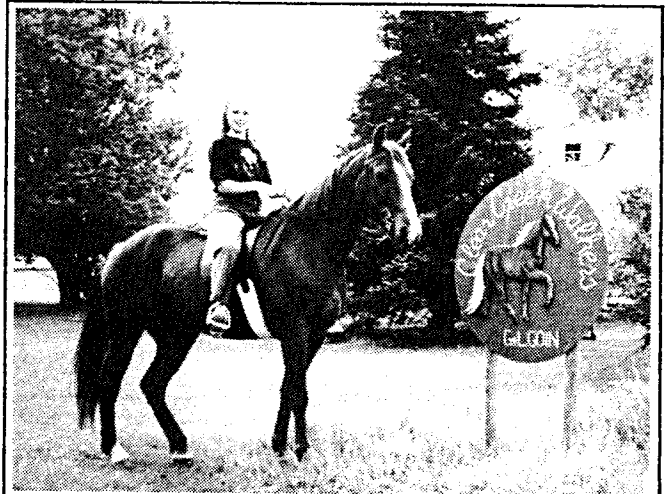

As with Grey John the pedigree of Earnheart's Brooks was of little consequence. He established his own name and his own family of running walk horses. A rivalry soon developed between people who liked Grey John horses and those who favored offspring of Earnheart's Brooks. A show was arranged between the two families. It was generally acknowledged that Earnheart's Brooks was the showier and better trained of the two stallions but the offspring of Grey John won the contest.

The Brooks, Grey John and Hal families had become well established as producers of running walk gaited horses when Allan finally appeared on the scene in 1902. Allan, foaled in 1886, is generally credited as the "founder" of the Tennessee Walking Horse. It should be noted that James Brantley picked him because he believed Allan would cross well with Walking mares. These Walking mares were the running walk gaited daughters and granddaughters of Bald Stockings, Gibson's Tom Hal, Boone's Grey John and Earnheart's Brooks. Allan had been a failure as a sire of trotting race horses: chances are he would have done no better as a sire of Walking Horses if it had not been for the running walk heritage of the mares he was bred to. Ben Green, author of Biography of the Tennessee Walking Horse, has gone so far as to suggest that the Walking Horse breed could have become basically the same as it was in 1960 even if Allan F-1 had never lived.

Second guessing history is always a useless, though occasionally entertaining, activity. Allan refined and improved the first few generations of Walking Horses and soon dominated the breed. He was an outcross for the heavily linebred Brooks, Hal, and Grey John families. That fact that Allan did bring new bloodlines to the Walking Horse may well be the key to his success.

We've been linebreeding to Allan for 9-10 generations now. Instead of getting excited about Midnight Sun, Merry Go Boy, Merry Boy and Last Chance, maybe we ought to be looking for a long lost family of Brooks, Hal or Grey John horses ¶

HOW I GOT STARTED WITH WALKERS

by Lyn M. Jeglum

Having been involved with horses for most of my life, almost exclusively with Quarter Horses (I still have one), I was somewhat bemused when a friend talked me into looking at a Tennessee Walking Horse for the sake of my back. Back injuries have made it painful for me to ride for great lengths of time.

I saw an ad for Tennessee Walking Horses just south of us in Duncan, B.C. at the farm of Dan and Marly MacDonald. I telephoned and made arrangements to drive the two and a half hours to have a look.

What I saw when I got there was a herd of quiet beautiful horses. As we got closer to these horses, they came to meet us. They all came to be petted one at a time, no pushing and shoving, and not a bite mark on any of them.

I had a choice of four or five. One particular mare had really caught my eye and apparently, I had caught hers too, as she was reluctant to leave when the others wandered off. I have always purchased my horses first by personality and feeling, and secondly, conformation. The gentleness and serenity and a look of intelligence were certainly there. As for conformation, I didn't even know what a TWH was supposed to look like. But the basics -straight legs, good teeth and hooves, good coat and basic over all good proportion - were there.

So I bought myself a three year old TWH mare that was halter broke. She is Jessie Dee's daughter and we call her Cassi (Jessie Dee's Cassi).

Five months later I have absolutely no regrets. She is everything and more of what you hear a Walker is. She works well under saddle (Western) and is almost ready to pull a cart. She is very inquisitive, afraid of nothing and is the most easily trained horse I have ever owned. She's an absolute joy to be around.

I will always have a Quarter Horse for barrel racing and Western games, but I will also have a TWH for the pleasure of riding and the absolute pleasure of owning a horse.

I am glad I allowed myself to be talked into buying a horse I knew very little about.

REPLY TO DAVE HUGHES' IN MY OPINION

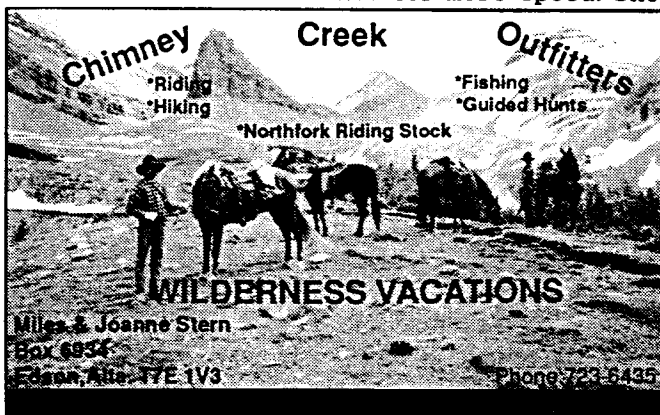

From MARGOT ROBERTS, CRANBROOK, B.C. "It was with great interest and total agreement that we read David J. Hughes' article, "In My Opinion", in the Jan/Feb. 1993 issue. We have three Tennessee Walkers, which are all very different. Our mare, whose breeding, we were told, is "nothing special", is, in our opinion, a natural. This horse can be ridden at a running walk by a nine year old and will do the running walk nine times out of ten when asked for more speed. She has had no professional training as far as the gaits go."

"Our eight year old gelding who is very well bred (Midnight Sun breeding) cost us a lot, we feel because of his breeding. The rider must really work to get this horse to do the running walk."

"Our other horse is an eighteen year old gelding which can walk but prefers to pace. He is an all-round good child's and beginner's horse and worth the $2000.00 purchase price."

"We must agree that the purchase price of a horse should more reflect its nature and ability rather than its breeding or name. It is unfortunate that Mr. Hughes was not able to find a suitable Walker during his two year search. We hope that many more people will become acquainted with the Tennessee Walking Horse breed and enjoy them as much as we do. We hope that most will not be turned off by the high price of a name."

PINTO SERIES * OVERO PATTERNS

by Laura Wyant

It was in 1985 when my bay TWH mare, bred to a chestnut son of Midnight Sun, produced a WHITE stud colt. He had only a few red roan hairs along the edges of his ears, his poll, his withers and on the top of his tail, but he did have dark eyes. What a shock! Where did this mostly white colt come from?? The mare was bay and showed a few roan hairs in her summer coat. She had four high white socks, a wide blaze that extended down over her lower lip. She had nine foundation horses on her papers, and was intensely bred ROAN ALLEN. On her sire's papers was Curlee's Spotted Allen.

After having been "into Pintos" from 1959 - 1972, I should have immediately recognized the colt (which I named The Roan Ranger) as an Overo. This incident started me researching the Overo color in the Tennessee Walking Horse.

The Overo pattern is recessive, in that the "color" can remain hidden for several generations and then appear again, seemingly out of nowhere (like my white colt).

The TWH registry now recognizes the Tobiano and the Overo spotting patterns, but actually there are three distinct Overo patterns:

The most common Overo pattern (at least among the Quarter Horses) is the classic Frame White Overo: a dark outline seeming to run all the way around the horse, with the horse having dark legs (unless the horse has socks), and white in its middle, like a Picture Frame. The face is often bald, apron or bonnet, and they have a tendency towards blue or white eyes. The pattern edges often appear ragged, and white rarely crosses the back-line, unless the horse has an extreme amount of white. With the excessive white comes the possibility of lethal white foals.

A Very Rare Overo pattern is Splash White: they look like a solid colored horse that has literally galloped through a puddle of white paint. Legs, belly, and chest are white, and the face is often white.

The Sabino (sa-bean-oh) Overo coloration was quite popular in the early Tennessee Walkers. Curlee's Spotted Allen as seen in Dr. Womack's video, A Look Into The Past, is a Sabino. It is interesting to note that the Sabino roan colored horses are becoming popular again. At one time they were called Christmas Tree horses. Today, some refer to them as being lit-up roans. I believe that the Sabino coloration is Sabino Roan, unconnected to a True Roan, and that most all of the Reg. Tennessee Walkers carry the Sabino gene, since most have at least one Sabino Roan colored horse on their papers!!

With the Sabino pattern, the white seems to spread from the hind legs up to the belly, with races and jagged roan edges. There can often be detached markings, such as solid front legs with a white spot on the knee (Merry Boy). The face usually has a white blaze with a pigmented area on the muzzle, and white often extends down to the underlip and sometimes down the throat. Entirely white individuals are born which lead normal lives, and they in turn produce a VERY high percentage of Lit-up Roan Sabinos.

Incidentally, the Sabino genotype is also prevalent in the Clydesdale breed, and they do not register roan colored stallions, putting an effective stop to any potential Lit-up Roans or White Foals.†
